OPPOSE CITY OWNERSHIP.

Realty Men Raising Objections to Purchase of Waterworks.

The forthcoming election on the question of voting for bonds for the pur-chase of the waterworks system by the city has brought the opposition forces to the front and a number of statements are being made by citizens

Saturday evening George E. Maule, a property owner who owns the lot the corner of Twenty-fifth street Grant avenue gave out the information Grant avenue gave out the information that if the city purchased the water-works system that he would erect a billboard around the property upon which he had intended to erect a building. He said that he had intended to begin the erection of the building if the city had not decided to buy the waterworks.

waterworks. Maule's statement which appeared in a local paper over his own signature, was called to the attention of Councilmen Peery and Humphries and they stated that they would buy the property from Maule paying 7 per cent more for his property than he paid for it and that they would erect a building upon it to show that they had faith in the future of Ogden which Maule stated would have a backset if the waterworks deal was made by the city.

Bishop Woolley, another real estate man of the city, called upon City Recorder Brown Saturday evening and inquired if any of the city's money had been paid out as yet in the matter of the purchase of the waterworks. When informed that none had he said that he was going to get out impeachment proceedings against the mayor and city council and insist upon their bonds-Maule's statement which appeared in council and insist upon their bonds-men paying back to the city any money that had been paid out or would be expended by them as city officials for the system

The situation is rapidly becoming a delicate one and before the election is held there promises to be many lively controversies, as considerable opposition has developed within the past few

VETERAN ANSWERS SUMMONS. VETERAN ANSWERS SUMMONS.

Wednesday Mrs. Lot Russon, Sr., an old time resident of Lehi, died at her home at the ripe age of 78, having suffered with asthma for some time. She was a native of England, and was the mother of 11 children, 10 of whom are living. She leaves a large posterity. Funeral services will be held from the tabernacle at 4 p. m. Sunday. She was a true Latter-day Saint, a kind and loving mother and friend.

Quarterly conference of the Alpine stake is being held here today and tomorrow.

WATERWORKS PROPOSITION.

Tuesday a number of city officials and citizens and Prof. Lyman of Salt Lake visited the Schoolhouse springs north of Alpine, when measurements were made of the flow of this stream. Mr. Lyman will also figure the cost of bringing the water to a place above Lehi, a distance of about seven miles and all these facts will be presented to the ctizens on the evening of July 28, when the proposition of buying five-sixths of the water from these springs from Alpine City for $5,000 and piping it to Lehi will be considered. This seems to be the best way of getting a much needed waterworks system.

Tuesday, W. Young, an implement agent, was fined $10 by Judge Taylor for selling vehicles without a license.

WINDMILL IRRIGATION. WATERWORKS PROPOSITION.

WINDMILL IRRIGATION.

Mr. Schneider, who owns a ranch on Utah lake southwest of Lehi, has a 10-acre patch of fine garden truck which he is watering from a well 22 feet deep, which is six feet above lake level, the water being pumped up by a windmill. He is a ploneer in this line in that part of the dry land country.

Monday Ellis Peterson fell from a load of hay into a ditch and nearly broke his neck; his head now hus to be supported with wooden supports.

Thursday Mrs. Charles Sabey presented her husband with a son.
